INTENDED LEARNING OUTCOMES

On successful completion of this module a student will be able to:

1. Employ services marketing concepts that acknowledge the inherent distinction between (tangible) packaged goods and (intangible) services marketing
2. Develop strategies which focus on physical evidence, people and process appropriate to the objectives, resources, and environment of either a profit or non-profit service organisation
3. Critically evaluate theoretical frameworks and make use of terminology drawn from the services marketing literature.
4. Detail recommendations for action and prepare and present informed, systematic and effective marketing reports as the basis for marketing decisions.

TEACHING METHODS

Teaching occurs in the classroom with support materials being available from blackboard..

Students engage with the theory and develop their critical skills during preparation and participation of the seminar. The report permits students to develop strategies which focus on physical evidence, people and process appropriate to the objectives, resources, and environment of either a profit or non-profit service organisation. The multiple choice test covers a broad set of services marketing terminology and contexts.

ASSESSMENT METHODS

This module is assessed through a Report (70%) and a Test (30%).
