

Subject: Invitation - Refugee Photography Exhibition
25 January 2019, 18:30 PM UCLan
Cyprus, Pyla

You are cordially invited to the Johnny Kondakjian photography and video exhibition from the life in refugee camps in Lebanon.

Johnny Kondakjian is an Armenian-born freelance photographer who was raised in Aleppo, Syria. His photographs were taken in areas of conflict and through his lens, he reflects the dire situation of refugees, predominantly in the Middle East, making them so distinct and unique.

The event is organised by the Humanitarian Aid Program, a non-governmental organisation based in Cyprus, established by students of UCLan Cyprus, under the mentoring of academics, with the auspices of the UN Migration Agency (IOM) office in Cyprus. It aims at raising awareness on the rights of vulnerable groups.

Programme:

18:30 – HAP team

18:35 – Dr. Natalie Alkiviadou, Lecturer, UCLan Cyprus

18:40 – Ms Xenophontos-Koudouna, Head of The International Organization for Migration, Cyprus

18:50 – Mr. Johnny Kondakjian, photographer

19:00 – Discussion Panel

19:20 – Exhibition, film screening and reception

Free entrance.

RSVP by 22nd of January 2019.
