

RUNNING THE ECONOMY

FOR A DAY COMPETITION

APRIL 8, 2019

OPEN TO UNIVERSITY
UNDERGRADUATE STUDENTS!

The School of Business and Management of UCLan Cyprus and the Department of Economics of the University of Cyprus invite undergraduate students for a challenging experience!

You will be the Chancellor of the Exchequer (Minister of Finance) and run the UK Economy for a day!

By using the Virtual Worlds Chancellor Simulation, an interactive economic game, you can change Government Spending, Income Tax, Spending Taxes, National Insurance Contributions and other economic variables, and see the effects on the national economy.

The duration for each session is 60 minutes and participating teams (maximum 4 persons) will receive feedback on the impact of their policies on economic performance. A panel of economists will decide on award winning teams. The competition will be held at UCLan Cyprus on Monday, 8th of April 2019.

University faculty, students, and societies with a focus on economics, finance and business management are invited to register their interest by March 31, 2019.

For more information and registration
Tel. 24 694 000
Email. istylianou@uclan.ac.uk | dmarkou@uclan.ac.uk
Leaders: Dr. Ioanna Stylianou and Mr. Demetris Markou

University of Cyprus

